TRACES PART OF GERMANS IN THE GROWTH OF U. S.

What Greece Was to Rome Germany Has Been to United States Declares Dr. Hexamer

FLAYS BRITISH LEADERSHIP

Honestly Neutral Policy Declared to Be Demand of the German-Americans

"For what Greece was to Rome, that Germany—in the widest sense—is to our beloved land", said Dr. Charles J. Hexamer, president of the National German-American Alliance, in closing his address at Germania hall last night. His address, which was enthusiastically received, was devoted to the history of German accomplishments in the United States, from pre-revolutionary times to the present. The achievements of Carl Schurz, of Baron Von Steuben, Baron deKalb, James Lick, Charles T. Yerkes and John Wanamaker, with scores of others, were mentioned by Dr. Hexamer to prove his opening statement.

"The influence of the German in our national development has been so cogent and the resplendent deeds of American patriotism performed by our German ancestors were so numerous that it seems incredible that even the pro-British press of our country should so entirely forget these, and though blinded by an intense hate for everything of German origin, should dare to question the loyalty of the German-American."

Speaks in German

Dr. Hexamer's speech was delivered in German. He said in part:

"The Americans of German extraction have always, in contradistinction to the 'Knownothing', stood for liberty from their first protest against slavery in 1688 until now when we are battling for the freedom of the seas. We ask not for a pro-German or a pro-British policy, but we do stand united for an honestly neutral policy. The question with us is solely what is best for the United States of America, not what is best for the pro-English money trust, lorded over by the fiscal agent of the allies, endorsed by his hirelings and by the gullible beings who report what has been told them by its 'leading' newspapers. In the name of Justice, of National Honor, of Unity and of Humanity let us hope that Americans will be able to rid themselves of such 'Leaders'. As one not of German blood, who appreciates our work and works with us, John L. Stoddard, has well said:

"You tell us we are un-American. I tell you we are infinitely more American that you if 'American' means an independent spirit, which revolts at this disgraceful truckling to Great Britain, unworthy of our fathers and our national character. The Navy League of Great Britain says in its annual report:

Slaves of British

"'The sea can endure but one master, and that master must be the widespread British empire, whose navy must dominate every line of sea communications to any place in which she has any affairs'. You are the slaves of that master. Your fathers refused to be. Do you realize that you cannot ship now any cargoes whatsoever to neutral lands without England's consent? Do you not, can you not, will you not see that England makes herself thus a tyrant that defies the accepted laws of nations, and loathes you in her heart because you take it all like sheep? What is the matter with you?

"Since we have reliable census records, we know that Germany has furnished about 30 per cent, of our so-called 'foreign oppulation', while England, which I quote without insidiousness, for comparison only, gave us about 11 per cent, including those from Wales.

Strong in Defense

"As a defender of the soil the German has always been strong, and when, in 1756, the colonies were harassed by Indians, the Royal American Regiment, raised by order of Parliament, consisted mostly of Germans.

"The late Rev. Geo. C. Heckman was right when he wrote: 'The Germans have especially suffered in not having just recognition in the origin and growth, the social and religious history of American civilization. Yet their place in the councils and armies of the country is so important that we may assert with absolute truth that there would have been no united colonial rebellion nor any United States of America, but for the patriotism of the Germans of the colonies.'

"In order to fully understand this we must bear in mind that at the outbreak of the revolution, the great Pivotal Colony—containing the metropolis of the colonies, Philadelphia—was Pennsylvania. On the action of this colony—which was then as has been variously estimated, from a third to more than a half 'Germanized' depended the ultimate success of the cause of freedom. The Germans were almost without exception enthusiastically in favor of separation from England, while the English speaking so-called 'better classes' were largely pro-English tories.

"When war was entered upon they were the first to take up arms and

NORMAL BRINGS FAMOUS GRAND OPERA COMPANY

CHEVALIER FULGENZIO GUERRIERI
Scoreless Director
SAN CARLO GRAND OPERA COMPANY

Devotees of music-drama in La Crosse will find interest in the fact that grand opera will be heard here this season. Word now comes that the famous San Carlo Opera company—that fine organization made famous some years ago by such notables as Mme. Nordica, Mme. Nielson, Constantino and others, will be here January 3 and 4 for a repertoire of several of the standard and modern masterpieces of operatic art. The normal school is bringing the opera here, but because of the large company, (the contract calls for eighty-five people), the performances will of necessity be held in the La Crosse theater.

Several of the world's most celebrated songstresses are coming—artists who have won distinction throughout the domain of opera—and the performances will be sung by three different casts of principals.

Special features of the event will be a large and brilliant chorus section, splendid ballet (with premiere danseuse), complete grand opera orchestra and many new scenic effects.

Further particulars regarding the grand opera event will soon be given out. Mr. Fortune Gallo of New York is the managing director of the San Carlo forces, while Mr. Cotton of the normal music department is attending to the local arrangements.

GERMANY MAKES INFORMAL PEACE BID AT VATICAN?

Report Is Belgium and Northern France Would Be Evacuated on Condition

BY ALICE ROHE
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ROME, Dec. 4.—Germany already has made informal suggestions looking to the establishment of peace through the papal consistory next Monday, according to reports current here today.

Cardinal Hartman of Cologne, is said to have brought to the vatican the proposal that Germany will evacuate Belgium and northern France and agree to an autonomous government for Poland, if the vatican will make a determined effort at the present time to bring about peace.

Cardinals representing the allies' countries, particularly Cardinal Gasquet of France and Cardinal Bourne of England, are said to have been sounded out with this proposal. It is understood they replied that Germany's enemies would not countenance half measures in any program of peace.

Pope Benedict is understood to be receiving representatives of all the interested countries before completing the allocution he will deliver at the private consistory on Monday. From each he is believed to be drawing the attitude of his country toward an early peace.

ALLEGED VIOLATOR OF MAN ACT HELD WITH WINONA GIRL

Arrested Here Last Night When He Meets Pretty Seventeen-Year-Old Complainant

TELLS OF TOUR OF COUNTRY

David Hail, Although Married, Took Her with Him as Wife According to Police Story

Charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, David E. Hail, alias Delavan Doane Howe, was scheduled to be brought before United States Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison this afternoon, following his arrest last night when he met Miss Elizabeth Ehlers, 17, a pretty Winona girl, at the Northwestern depot. Miss Ehlers told her story to United States District Attorney Dickey at Winona, and met Hail here at that officer's direction. Captain Winkles of the Winona police force accompanied Miss Ehlers, and made the arrest, with Patrolman Wendling of this city.

Says She Passed as Wife

Miss Ehlers charges that Hail, although a married man, has been taking her to various cities all over the United States. She declares that she posed as his wife. The police say today that Hail admitted, when arrested, that Miss Ehler's charge is true.

Hail is said to have a legal wife in Dalhart, Texas.

Miss Ehlers left Hail at Rochester, Minn., last week after an extended tour of the country, according to the story in the possession of the local police. He is said to have refused to accompany the girl to Winona, knowing that to be her home. He also refused to meet her there, when she wrote to him at Rochester, and directed her to meet him in La Crosse.

Miss Ehlers carried out the directions on the advice of the district attorney.

In Hail's effects when arrested was a diploma from a Washington school of osteopathy, in the name of David Delavan Howe. Hail was registered at a local hotel as D. D. Howe.

FORD PARTY SAILS TO ATTEMPT TO SET UP PEACE ON CONTINENT

WALKS TO ASYLUM FROM CITY WHEN ATTACK IMPENDS

Husband Discovers That Missing Wife Has Entered Institution at West Salem

NINE HOURS LATER MIND GOES

Suffering from Bad Nervous Break-down but Will Recover Say the Authorities

Nine hours after she had walked from La Crosse to West Salem to seek refuge in a mental break-down she felt impending, Mrs. J. W. Zellmer, 315 Jackson sareet, had her fears realized. Today she is under the care of the West Salem asylum physician, suffering from a delusion that rocks are falling upon her head.

Formerly Inmate

Mrs. Zellmer's case is one of the most peculiar that has come to the attention of the West Sales authorities. A year ago she was discharged from the asylum as cured, after having been a patient a year at the Mendota asylum and three years at West Salem. Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock she re-appeared at the asylum and asked admittance.

"I'm going to pieces," she told the wife of Superintendent Gullickson. "I can feel it coming on. I want to be with you."

She left her home here just after breakfast Wednesday morning, without a word to her husband, a brewery worker. He came home at noon to find the breakfast dishes still upon the table, and no sign of his wife. Wednesday night, when she had not re-appeared he appealed to the police. It was not until yesterday that she was traced to the asylum.

Walked to Occupy Mind

Mrs. Zellmer had walked to the institution. She took a small amount of money with her, more than sufficient to have paid her railroad fare. She told the matron at the asylum that she had walked to keep busy.

"I couldn't allow myself any time to think," Mrs. Gullickson quoted her today.

Mrs. Zellmer's condition is such that authorities at West Salem believe there is no question that she will recover. "A bad nervous breakdown", they characterized her case today.

WINONAN BURIED HERE

Albert Sechter, a former resident of La Crosse, was buried here yesterday, the body being brought here from Winona by friends. Funeral services were held at the home of Meyer Ehrlich, 1106 Pine street, yesterday afternoon, and interment took place at the Jewish cemetery. Samuel Feinberg of this city was in charge of arrangements. Joseph Miller and James Kanofski, with his son, brought the body of Sechter from Winona.

FORD PASSPORTS ARE GOOD ONLY IN NEUTRAL NATIONS

The Leader Says, However, That He Will Visit the Belligerent Countries

"TRY FOR PEACE" HE SAYS

Scenes of Bustle and Disorder Precede the Time Set for the Sailing

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—With bands playing and hundreds on shore and shouting and cheering, the peace ship Oscar II, bearing Henry Ford and his peace delegates to Europe, swung out from her pier at Hoboken at 3:15 this afternoon and headed down the bay.

With the departure of the liner, one of the most unique peace missions in Europe was under way.

The Oscar II will stop at Christiana and Copenhagen, where delegates from other neutral countries are expected to join the peace party.

The journey will then continue to The Hague, where Ford plans to establish the peace tribunal which will endeavor to bring about the end of the European war.

One of the last persons Ford saw before sailing was William Jennings Bryan. The former secretary of state went aboard the Oscar II about a half hour before the liner's departure. He was warmly welcomed by the crowd which packed the pier and swarmed to all parts of the peace boat.

Henry Ford's passport is good only for neutral European countries, but he is going to visit the belligerents nevertheless.

"I shall assert my rights as an American citizen," he said today, on the verge of his peace ship's departure.

His tour will include all the warring nations, he added. Specifically, he mentioned England and France. In the former country, he explained, he intends opening a new factory at Southampton.

"But your passport isn't made out to these countries," it was pointed out to him.

"I don't care," he answered. "I'm going, anyway."

'My last word to America,' he concluded, "is: Every one try for peace; down with preparedness.

One of Ford's last callers before departure was Baron Shiba Sawa, Japanese trade delegate to the United States. The baron wished him good luck and Godspeed.

One hundred and fifty-two passports were accounted for today and Ford has only 140 reservations on the Oscar II, so that twelve of his guests will have to be left behind.

Many of his guests had preceded him. In fact, a few put in an appearance at the dock in the very early morning, hoping to avoid the rush. It did them not a particle of good. The steamship officials had no list of those who were to go and the forehanded arrivals simply stood around in the cold, awaiting somebody in authority to tell them where to go and what to do.

R. J. MacBrayne was the first to place his name on the steamship list. The officials took his word for it that he was a duly accredited member of the Ford party. He had nothing to show for it. Neither had anyone else.

His followers are not scheduled to follow the Detroit millionaire on his tour of the belligerent countries. The invitations are good only for the trip to Scandinavia and The Hague. From the latter place they will be sent home, while Ford continues his journey by himself.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

Little Frock of Ring Dotted Albatross.

A charming little blue and red frock for the school girl. Because it is adaptable to smart variations it is an extremely useful design.

A dark blue background with red figures forms the color scheme of this model, the trimmings being in red taffeta. The closing is effected at the side and there is a deep belt in which pockets may be inserted. For eight-year size the dress requires 3 yards 44-inch albatross, with ¾ yard taffeta.

By following the construction guide the home dressmaker will see how simple a matter it is to put the dress together. It is well to begin with the waist. First, close the right shoulder seam as notched and form tuck, creasing on lines of slot perforations in front and back; stitch 1¼ inch from folded edge. Close under-arm and left shoulder seams as notched. Turn hems at front edges of both fronts on small "o" perforations; stitch hem in right front 1¼ inch and left front 1 inch from folded edges. Center-front indicated by large "O" perforations in right front. Face collar and sew to neck edge of back and right front, notches and center-backs even; bind left neck edge.

Close the sleeve and cuff seams as notched, face the cuff and sew to sleeve, double "oo" perforations and seams even.

To make the skirt, slash first the front gore to the left of center-front on double "oo" perforations and finish for opening. Pleat front and back gores, creasing on lines of slot perforations; bring folded edges to corresponding lines of small "o" perforations; stitch 1 inch from folded edges and press. Join gores as notched. Turn hem at lower edge of skirt on small "o" perforations. Sew to lower edge of waist.

The large "O" perforation in the belt indicates the upper edge of the front section. Slash the belt on crossline of small "o" perforations; insert a pocket. Turn under edge of front secton on slot perforations, lap on back section to small "o" perforations, notches even; stitch to position, leaving edges on left side free for opening.

The red piping adds much to the effectiveness of the dress.

No Trial Because Defendant Didn't Know About Date

Because Louis Ormson didn't know about it, and so did not appear in court, his trial on three charges of cruelty to dumb animals, etc., was not held as scheduled in county court Thursday afternoon, District Attorney Otto Schlabach, Humane Agent D. C. Dewey and the witnesses were all in court, but there was no defendant. Judge Brindley started the sheriff out after Ormson, who, when located, declared he had never been told the date of his trial. A date for the case will probably be set late today.

PROMISED LIFE TO AID IN SEARCH OF PLOTTERS IN U. S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Franz Von Rintelen, German agent arrested by the British at sea after leaving this country and now a prisoner in England, will be given a chance for life if he aids United States officials in running down the principals in bomb plots and passport frauds, it was reported here yesterday.

Special District Attorney Sarfaty, who is handing the passport cases, would not deny the report.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE THIRD TIME CHARMS

BY CATHARINE CRANMER

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"They say it's hard to get babies or widowers through their second summers," mumbled Jack Ellis to himself, "But it'll be a miracle. If Dorothy Leigh gets through her second season without becoming engaged. She's pretty, popular, wealthy, adorable—in other words, just Dorothy."

Jack frowned at the awful possibilities of the case. He was in love with Dorothy, but would not be in a secure enough financial position to propose to her before January, when he would be taken into the firm as a director. The present uncertainty of business conditions gave him occasional doubts.

"Thunder and lightning! Business has got to grow!" he exclaimed, lighting his sixth cigaret in ten minutes, and springing out of the low armchair where he had been half reclining. With hands in his pockets he made rapid strides back and forth in his den. He tried to devise ways and means for selling two reams of paper where he had before sold but one, but ever before his frowning gray eyes and the complicated paper market there rose the vision of brown-haired, brown-eyed, peachy-skinned Dorothy, and ever about her were swarms of admiring men including everything from callow youths just out of college to the blase roue.

"Biff!" and Jack's right fist cupped into his left hand with a thud. His set jaw and narrowed eyes indicated what he'd like to do to any man who dared to go near Dorothy. At the same moment he determined to go to her that very day and offer her his heart, asking her to let him add his modest fortunes, which would be greater within the year. "And with Dorothy as the goal, what mountains of difficulty could stop me or even detain me?"

In a frenzy of love and hope and a rather foolish certainty of success, Jack made a careful afternoon toilet and went swinging along the few blocks to Dorothy's home. Head up, eyes shining, he was quite unconscious of the admiring glances he received from the many girls taking their Sunday afternoon stoll to the park.

But alas for mushroom hopes! As he passed through the iron gateway leading into the residence street where Dorothy lived, he stiffened at the sight of Henry Ardmore's shining black automobile rolling noiselessly toward him, with Dorothy and Ardmore in its roomy rear seat. Ardmore leaned forward and faced Dorothy just in time partially to obscure the glory of her charming smile of greeting to Jack.

"Why can't that old fossil stay at his club, where such as he belong?" was Jack's mental query as he passed on through the street, which now held nothing of interest for him.

It was only four o'clock and the late autumn afternoon was one of rare beauty, so rare, indeed, that to Jack there seemed no means of doing it justice except in Dorothy's company. Bereft of that, he went home, took out his car, and went for an aimless run into the country. He avoided the country club lest he should seem to be trailing Dorothy and Ardmore, who would probably stop there for tea. With little thought of speed regulations or little interest in which turn he took where roads diverged, he rushed on. The short afternoon faded behind a brilliant sunset by darkness, and fast moving clouds overspread the entire sky.

Rounding a corner at a pretty good pace, Jack had to bring his car to an abrupt stop to avoid danger of colliding with two disabled cars which were standing facing each other, with dead engines and anxious passengers. Jack recognized the one headed for the city as Ardmore's. He promptly offered any possible aid, and his heart beats broke all speed records when the task assigned him was to take Dorothy cityward lest the approaching storm break before the damaged car could be repaired to make the trip.

With wicked thankfulness that his little gray roadster could accommodate but one passenger, Jack handed Dorothy in and drove off feeling luckier than Aladdin when his lamp was at its best. He noted little of the details of Dorothy's account of the accident, but made her reiterate her assurance of her own complete escape from injury. Reflecting that though Fate had snatched one opportunity from him she had flung another at his feet. Jack decided it was up to him to make the most of his opportunity.

"Dorothy," he began, just as they entered the park, on whose smooth and much curved roadways he was willing for once to observe the speed regulations. But he never got any further with his speech, for a big limousine coming toward them halted and Dorothy's father called her name as he stepped from the door.

"Ardmore's chauffeur telephoned that there had been an accident, but the connection was so poor that I couldn't get the straight of what had become of you, so I started out to see if I could find you along the way. It's lucky we met here in the light," concluded John Leigh.

Although Jack thought it most unlucky to have met at all, he did not say so, but accepted their cordial invitation to tea, consoling himself with a vague recollection of the alleged charm of all third attempts against failure, and he determined that he would make a third attempt to propose before he left Dorothy.

Dorothy was charmingly flushed and exuberant and her parents were openly demonstrative of their joy at her escape from injury and of their gratitude to Jack for bringing her home. In the little family group Jack began to feel quite at home. After supper he enjoyed a rare cigar with John Leigh, while they discussed business conditions. Inwardly, though, he was longing for an opportunity to be alone with Dorothy, when a frightened servant girl burst into the living room screaming that the house was on fire.

Dashing up the back stairway where the frightened maid pointed, Jack smelled burning cotton, and in the maid's room on the third floor he found the Swiss window curtains had dropped in burning fragments upon the matting floor covering. Grabbing a small rug from the hallway floor, he extinguished the flames starting from the matting just as Dorothy, her parents and the excited maid entered the room. Between sobs and pleadings for forgiveness the maid explained how the gas jet lighted to heat her curling iron had been left burning, and in her eagerness to see whether the threatening storm promised to interfere with her evening's pleasure she had pushed the window draperies so far to one side that the inflammable Swiss had touched the flame. While Mr. and Mrs. Leigh talked to the girl, Dorothy searched Jack's hands for burns, two of which she found, and she marched him down stairs to administer first aid.

"Oh, Jack! It's too bad," she murmured in a tearful voice, as she gave the bandage a final pat. Does it hurt so very much?"

"Hurt Why, it's heavenly, Dorothy!" Jack exclaimed. Dorothy wondered what he meant, but when he heard her father's voice on the stairway, he lost no time in making his meaning quite clear.

"The third time charms, Jack," whispered Dorothy, "and I'm glad you didn't succeed in telling me the other times you tried, for I didn't know until five minutes ago that I loved you."

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Ignorance Kills Babies

"If you want your baby to live, learn about him."

The death rate of infants under one year in Wisconsin is high, far too high. Leaving out of consideration Milwaukee with its different conditions, the mortality rate of babies less than one year old is 86 per thousand births. This means that one out of every eleven babies born this year in Wisconsin will die before it reaches the age of one year. And of this 86 per thousand who die, half or one in every twenty-two babies born die of some absolutely preventable disease. Such wholesale sacrifice of infant life is appalling—it is, in fact, a criminal waste. It is not intentional; it is simply because we do not know enough about babies.

Nearly six of every ten infant deaths from preventable disease under one year are due to diseases of the digestive tract. One baby out of every forty born is so improperly fed that it dies. That one-fortieth of our babies should thus die; that 1,350 babies a year die in Wisconsin because their mothers do not know how to feed them, is a fact demanding attention. Until mothers can be persuaded to nurse their babies, and to refrain from feeding them the thing nearest at hand, whether it be meat, pickles, or sour milk, we shall go on having a barbarous death rate from digestive disorders. But if mothers will nurse their babies when physically able and otherwise give them pure scientifically modified cow's milk, handled in scrupulous fashion, then we will have eliminated 50 per cent of the cause of preventable infant death.

Respiratory diseases come second on the list of unnecessary deaths during the first year, causing 33 per cent. Improper clothing, exposure to all sorts of weather, with sudden changes, and negligence in prompt attention to "common colds" when started; these combine to furnish excellent footholds for fatal cases of pneumonia, bronchitis, etc.

Contagious disease plays a small part in the death of infants under one year in Wisconsin. Only 2-1 per cent of the preventable deaths are due to contagious disease. A few scattering cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever, as many of whooping cough, and possibly twice as many of measles, are all. The important fact in connection with the measles cases, is that nine out of ten are complicated by pneumonia, until it is often not clear which of the two is the agent of death, and which merely a contributory cause.

Premature births cause seventeen out of 100 infant deaths—a number that could be cut to less than half by efficient care of expectant mothers.

Wisconsin's baby slaughter can easily be cut five-eighths. We shall doubtless have to go on, for a long time seeing the death of the thirty-three out of a thousand babies who die from causes we do not yet know how to prevent, but our consciences will feel greatly eased, when it is only thirty-three out of the present eighty-six.

THE CASE AGAINST THE SENTINEL

Having charged the Milwaukee Sentinel with misrepresenting the La Follette meetings by understating the attendance and picturing cold receptions, we feel we should support this serious accusation with competent evidence.

At the Richland center speech four outside newspapers were represented by reporters. In reporting the meeting next morning the Sentinel said there were four hundred voters present, and sought to create the impression that the senator's reception was cool and disappointing.

Contrast with this the stories published by the other three newspapers represented—the Milwaukee Journal, Milwaukee Daily News and Madison State Journal:

Milwaukee Journal—The hall was crowded to capacity. It seats about 1,000 persons and particularly at the start of his speech a large number of people stood up in the aisles and at the back of the room. The senator was given a very cordial reception in the matter of preparation and enthusiasm."

Madison State Journal—"He opened his campaign before a crowd of 1,200 people in the magnificent auditorium at Richland Center."

Milwaukee Daily News—"In an address delivered here last night to an audience of about 1,000 people who filled the auditorium Senator La Follette opened his campaign. * * * Senator La Follette was given a warm welcome. He was met at the station on his arrival by a band and a delegation of prominent citizens. He was often interrupted by strong applause.

The latter paper, while it indulges in no personalities, is not friendly to Senator La Follette. The harmony of statement found in the other three papers should outweigh the mendacious figures of the Sentinel, but to clinch the case we quote from the Center, a Richmond Center local paper, of stalwart leanings:

The Center—United States Senator R. M. La Follette spoke Monday night at the auditorium on the political issues of the day. He was greeted by a full house and frequently interrupted by applause.

It has been some ten or twelve years since the senator spoke here. He has lost none of his old time vigor and held the closest attention of his hearers throughout his speech. Although the notice of his coming was short there were persons present at the speech from all parts of the county.

The Sentinel should know that this sort of misrepresentation injures no one but the paper that publishes it, for most of the stalwart newspapers decline to stoop to such methods and therefore the misrepresentations are refuted by its own allies. As, one by one, the La Follette addresses are delivered, the cities where he appears will know what dependence can be placed upon the Sentinel's utterances, and will measure its future representations in the light of that knowledge. What wonder papers that so deport themselves lack influence!

REMARKABLE FLOP OF MR. WEIGEL

The present deplorable status in the pure food department of Wisconsin may be summarized as follows:

Of a toial of 1,320 food samples submitted to the department from Feb. 10 to Nov. 15, during Commissioner Weigel's administration, 490 were below standard and 409 had not been analyzed at all at the time Senator La Follette conducted his investigation a few weeks ago.

But 23 of the 490 violations have been prosecuted, as to 240 prosecutions under Emery the previous year.

But three re-examinations of below standard cases have been made.

In other words, the department is hopelessly behind in its work and its activities have been woefully inadequate to meet the situation.

Why?

At Mason City, Iowa, April 6, Commissioner Weigel gave some of the facts that have developed into reasons for inefficiency of his department, in this language:

While the creamery butter of Wisconsin brings better prices on the market than that of other states the uniform run of our product is not of the highest standard and does not bring the highest prices. The reason for this is lack of education among our farmers. With our present inscription force it is impossible to better the situation. I AM ASKING THE LEGISLATURE FOR AN APPROPRIATION OF $90,000. THIS IS AN INCREASE OF $30,000 OVER LAST YEAR AND IF OUR REQUEST IS GRANTED WE HOPE TO ADD 15 TO 20 MORE INSPECTORS TO OUR FORCE.

Commissioner Weigel furnished additional evidence of the reasons when, asked by the accountant and secretary of the finance committee whether his department could do with an appropriation of $70,000 plus the unexpended balance on hand, as Secretary Gruhn reports the incident:

Mr. Weigel threw up his hands, emphatically stating that it would be an impossibility; that it would be a difficult matter for him to get along with the amount stated in the bill; that he positively would not accept the responsibility of what would happen to the department.

The above, together with the fact that the appropriation was cut instead of being increased, are the reasons. The reduction came about in this way:

Assemblyman Harrington, an administration leader, offered a bill to cut the appropriation to $37,000, saying Mr. Weigel had agreed to the cut, and when a member doubted the statement, producing Mr. Weigel's written statement that the full appropriation was insufficient, Harrington, to the surprise of the assembly, next morning appeared with the following letter, signed by Mr. Weigel:

Referring to the written statement exhibited by Mr. Spoor from me in regard to the appropriation for my department, I gave the statement in question to the committee on finance sometime before I made the verbal statement to you. My statement to you is a conclusion reached after considering the requirements of my department I had failed to make allowance for the increased efficiency of the department's employees. You were authorized by me to state what you did and I wish to repeat here that my department can get along with a reduction of $37,000 for the biennium without injury to the state's interests.

There is the whole case. Who accepts Mr. Weigel's purile letter as the real explanation of the commissioner's belated and reluctant consent to retrenchment that has resulted practically in the collapse of the department? Surely, we must look elsewhere for the answer.

Who was it said that one inspector could do all the necessary work of the department?

Who appointed Weigel?

Who said, "This is the end of the 'Wisconsin idea'?"

How many ways are there of skinning a cat?

Generosity

A friend of John, the bartender, came into the "place" one day and had a good, long, old fashioned visit. After an hour or so he prepared to depart and John, hospitably inclined, asked:

"Well, Moike, me lad, would ye have a little something before ye go?"

"No, many thanks to ye, John, but I never take anything of late years."

"Well, thin, have a cigar, Moike."

"Oh, well, all right. Give me one of thim 'Pride of the Furst Ward.'"

John handed out the box, placed his hand to his mouth and, looking around cautiously to see that nobody was listening, whispered confidentially:

"Take two of thim, Moike. They're not very good."

TINY RED PIMPLES ON DAY OLD CHILD

Got Larger. Hair All Came Out. Cried Terribly. Could Not Sleep. Had to Walk Floor to Quiet Him. Used Cuticura and Now Well.

La Crosse, Kansas.—"When my son was one day old he began breaking out on his face in tiny red pimples that seemed to itch, as he was uneasy and couldn't sleep. The pimples got larger and changed to water blisters. They would break and run and cause new ones to break out until he was covered all over with a thick crust. His head was so bad we were afraid to wash it almost. All his hair came out. We kept him on a pillow for fear of breaking the blisters. Every time they broke they seemed to smart and burn, as he would cry terribly. The eruption disfigured the baby. We had to walk the floor with him to quiet him.

"When he was four weeks old I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Ointment. The first time I used them he slept better than he had for a long time. He is now, at the age of nine months, well." (Signed) Mrs. John W. Sutcliffe, June 30, 1914.

The Needy Ones

Irate Father—It's astonishing, Richard, how much money you need.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

An Old Refrain

Why do I have such thoughts, a night like this?
We're waiting in the trenches to attack,
And yet my mind runs on a long past bliss,
A waltz with her—what brings that memory back?

Our guns are roaring so they rock the ground
To blast a pathway for the great advance,
And here, in this red hell of shaking sound,
I hear the rippling measures of a dance!

That eerie calling music sounds so clear,
It seems to hover o'er that wooded slope;
I feel a strange numb chill—it can't be fear—
Oh, never that, for fear's as dead as hope!

The guns have ceased! We'll try them now with steel!
We're crawling out like cats to storm the hill!
Ten thousand men are treading toe on heel—
That waltz again! I hear its lilting still.

We're charging now and cheering as we run,
Yet over all I hear the mystic swell
Of violins! They see us! Gun on gun
They're pounding us to bits with shrapnel shell!

I'm hit! Ah, then it is the call of death,
And love, I hear in that sweet vibrant tone—
I feel her fragrant breath upon my breath—
Her heart is throbbing close against my own.

—O. C. A. Child in New York Times.

Alarming Cosmetic

After a busy day of golfiing and an evening of automobiling, Jane's skin was irritated from the combined effects of sun and wind, so she liberally "cold-creamed" her face and hands and settled herself for a good night's rest.

In a few minutes her face began to feel stiff and drawn. "At last," she thought, "the expected has happened. I have paralysis."

Her nervousness increased when her fingers became unmanageable and her skin began to crack and snap.

She hastily turned on the light and found her face alarmingly waxy and shiny. What could be the cause?

Finally she rushed for the tube of cold cream. It was labeled "Library Paste."—Youth's Companion.

Near Relatives

"Who is that lady dressed in black, mother?" asked Bobby, as he sat with his mother on a ferry boat.

"That is a Sister of Charity, my boy," replied his mother.

Bobby pondered deeply for a moment, and then he said: "Which is she, mother, Faith or Hope?"—Bazaar.

Unconditional Surrender

"How," asked the captain of the train robbers, "did you manage to go through so many passengers alone?"

"I had only," rejoined the ordinary brigand, "to carry a whiskbroom in my hand and they suspected nothing."—Puck.

To Please His Wife

"Why are you offering such a thundering big reward for the return of that half starved looking animal?"

"Simply to please the wife."

"Goodness! But such a reward will surely bring it back, and then you won't half look sick."

"But, you see, I know it won't. I drowned it myself."

AMERICAN BOAT IS SEIZED BY SWEDES ON WAY TO GERMANY

COFENHAGEN, Dec. 4. — The American steamer Andrew Welch is being held in the harbor of Haelmstad by Swedish torpedo boats after an unsuccessful attempt to proceed to Germany, according to dispatches received here yesterday.

The American steamer eluded British warships that chased her enroute to Haelmstad and arrived there with a valuable cargo of beans. There was no receiver for her cargo when she reached the Swedish port. The Swedish authorities are reported to have denied her permission to proceed to Germany on the ground that they would thereby acquiesce in a violation of the British blockade of Germany.

Lloyd's lists no steamer of the above name, but the American bark Andrew Welch, owned by the Matson Steamship company of San Francisco, cleared from San Francisco on August 19 with a cargo of beans for Haelmstad.

Safety First

A Chicago man sued a dentist for $25,000 for alienating his wife's affections. Then he found out that his action had been founded purely on gossip. He apologized and the court action was ended. A lot of other court actions would have the same ending if people would investigate first, and sue afterwards.

Uncle Sam's Pointer Shows Business Is Good In La Crosse

Is business on the mend in La Crosse? Ask Postmaster Olaf Skaar.

The postoffice today gave out figures concerning the business done during November as compared with the same month of 1914. In round numbers the November 1915 saw $12,000 of business go over Uncle Sam's counter. Last year the corresponding period's figure was $8,752.

There is an increase in all departments, including the parcel post, the postoffice said. Business men today said that the business done by the postoffice is an accurate barometer of business conditions in the community.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN"

Kibble's grand superb spectacular revival of that everlasting old play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will be seen at the La Crosse theater on tomorrow matinee and night, promises to be a theatrical treat in every sense of the word. The company this year is bigger, better and brighter than ever and numbers over fifty people, among which are twenty negroes from the sunny south, who have been especially engaged to fill out the many pretty pictures of the play and present their famous songs, dances and plantation "shines." So thorough and pleasing has been the production under this management that the press, public and pulpit have unanimously sung its praise and thousands upon thousands have attended. It requires two seventy-foot cars to transport the special scenery, thirty head of horses, ponies, donkeys, burros, bloodhounds, log cabin and other numerous novelties to make it the largest production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" ever attempted by anyone.

Some men are looking for work, and others seek a government job.

F. R. A. Bazaar Success

The bazaar given by the F. R. A. last Thursday proved to be a big social and financial success and when closing time arrived all of the booths were depleted. The fancy work, candy and parcel post booths, took the lead in financial gains while the lunch counter scored a harvest in the advance sale of tickets which were presented for redemption. The dreamland dancing pavilion, was a brilliant scene of activity. The beautiful decorations added to the enjoyment and it proved to be the most successful event of the year for the order.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

NORMAL DOINGS

Social events are flowing thick and fast at the normal school, the time from now to Christmas being exceptionally crowded with various functions.

The social hour on Thursday was the first "joy time" this week. Last night the Sapphonian literary society, the Websterian debating society, and the Eclectic debating society were the guests of the Forum literary society, a girls' organization, at an informal party. Not long ago the Sapphonian and the Electic had a joint meeting, so the social activity among the literary sects seems to be established. The largest crowd that has ever turned out to a similar literary function was present last night, about a hundred coming out for the evening's dancing, and the good time which has characterized all the normal parties was the natural sequel. Each Eclectian was bedecked with a green ribon bearing a large E but by the end of the party many of the ladies had joined the men's society, so said the ribbons.

Tonight comes one of the big event of the year. A formal ball given by the Ladies' Glee club is what the program calls for; the invited men are congratulating themselves on their success in obtaining a "bid." The committees for the occasion have been at work for months and the affair promises to eclipse anything else of the season.

Likewise three more events will be pulled off next week. Dr. Nurse's 8:00 o'clock German class will enjoy the benefits of their tardiness and absence on some night which has not been definitely determined. Each person coming to class late was assessed five cents; an absence counted a dime, so thus the treasury increased to about eight dollars. A party including a German program, will result.

On Wednesday night at 6:30 all the men in the school will come together in a most informal "feed." The affair promises to be the largest of its kind in the year. Men will cook the meal, an old-styled German dinner, and men will serve. The committee has been working on a program for the evening. The purpose of the feed is to get all the men together on a social occasion where their interests are not wholly distracted by the fair sex.

On Friday night the week's activities will be wound up with the Junior party, when the Juniors will enjoy the benefits of their successful County Fair.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century club will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, December 7, at 2:30 o'clock, in the kindergarten room at the normal school with Mrs. Westby and Mrs. Oyen as hostesses.

SURPRISE PARTY

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. W. Thomas at her home, 1030 South Fifth street, Thursday afternoon. The following ladies were present: Mesdames F. W. Boardman, A. T. Mathewson, W. Owen, P. A. Block, F. Branson, G. Jacobs, W. Schickorsky, H. Hefti, H. Webber and J. Wiggert.

SUPPER AT Y. W.

Seventeen operators from the La Crosse Telephone company were entertained at a supper at the Young Women's Christian association Thursday evening.

DINNER

Dr. C. Christiansen will be host at a stag dinner this evening at his home, 1214 Ferry street. The guests will mainly consist of fellow-practitioners of Dr. Christiansen.

WILSON HAS GOOD HOLD ON THE HOUSE IN COMMITTEES

Democrats in Majority on Naval and Military Committees

BY BOND P. GEDDES
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The administration today was placed firmly in committee control of national defense legislation in the house. Administration members were in the majority on the naval and military committees as submitted this afternoon in democratic caucus. The house committee slate, prepared by the ways and means democrats, was expected to be ratified by the caucus with little opposition.

Democratic representations on all large committees was reduced from fourteen to thirteen members, because of the increased republican membership.

The republican, progressive, socialist and independent committee assignments are being prepared by Republican Leader Mann for announcement Monday.

Five new democrats were nominated to the naval committee. It now stands eight for a "big navy" and five for a "little navy" as far as the democratic majority is concerned. Of the five new democrats, Callaway of Texas, is regarded as a little navy man. The others, Hart, New Jersey, Connelly, Kansas; Oliver, Alabama, and Liebel, Pennsylvania, are regarded as administration supporters. All other naval committee men were retained, including Tribble, Georgia; Hensley, Missouri; Buchanan, Illinois, and Gray, Indiana, the little navy members.

Military Remade

The military committee was largely remade. Three former members, Howard, Georgia; Griffin, New York, and Gard, Ohio, were transferred. Six new members were named, Littlepage, West Virginia; Shallenberger, Nebraska; Farley and Caldwell, New York; Wise, Georgia; Richard Olney, Jr., Massachusetts, and Nicholas, South Carolina. Of the veteran members, only two, Quinn, Mississippi, and Gordon, Ohio, are considered little army men.

The fight to prevent re-election of Henry of Texas as chairman of the rules committe was unavailing.

New Democrats on Appropriations

Five new democrats were placed on the appropriations committee, Howard, Georgia; Evans, Montana; Eagan, New Jersey; Buchanan, Texas, and Gallivan, Massachusetts. Five new members were also named on the judiciary and banking committees and six on the merchant marine committee, which will have charge of the administration ship purchase bill.

Only two democrats were placed on the rivers and harbors committee, Taylor of Arkansas and Hulbert of New York. No important changes were made on the interstate commerce commission.

On the labor committee only four veterans remain. Four new members are Houston, Tennessee; Sumner, Texas; Almon, Alabama, and Van Dyke, Minnesota.

VON NUBER MAY FALL INTO STEP WITH THE OTHERS

Demand for Recall of Austrian Consul General at New York Is Rumored

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Recall of another Austro-German official for improper conduct, following announcement of demands for the withdrawal of Captain Karl Boy-Ed and Captain Franz Von Papen, German embassy naval and military attaches, was imminent today.

All indications pointed to a similar fate for Austrian Consul General Von Nuber, of New York. Instead of the apology requested by Austria for the justice department's official statement implicating Von Nuber, it was believed certain that he would get the same treatment as Boy-Ed and Von Papen. Delay of the state and justice departments in repudiating the Von Nuber statement was understood to portend Von Nuber's retirement.

COURT NOW ASKED TO REVISE HENKE SPECIAL VERDICT

Attorneys for Defense Plead That Evidence Does Not Substantiate the Findings

OTHER COURT PROCEEDINGS

Motions and Stipulations in Pending Cases Occupy Time of Judge Higbee

The malpractice case of George Morrison against Doctors W. A. Henke, B. W. Mast and the La Crosse Hospital association, which was decided in favor of Morrison several days ago, came before the attention of Judge E. C. Higbee in circuit court this morning when Attorneys Charles H. Schweizer for the hospital association, and Andrew Lees for the defendant doctors, introduced briefs in the case asking that answers to several questions in the special verdict be changed by the court. Judge Higbee announced that he would file a written opinion on the case soon.

Mr. Schweizer declared to the court that there was no evidence introduced in the case that the nurses who cared for Marrison after the appendicitis operation were incompetent. The evidence might show negligence, but not incompetence, he said.

Attorney Lees argued that doctors could not be held liable for negligence on the part of the nurses, over whom they had no authority.

Other Proceedings

The motion of judgment for Theodore Norlie, local real estate agent, to the sum of $240 against L. T. Schams, was granted by the court upon request of James Thompson, counsel for Norlie.

A motion was heard in the case of Nelle Dunning against the Lederer-Straus Millinery company of Des Moines. The case was decided the first part of the week in favor of the plaintiff. Judge Higbee is asked to change the answers of some of the questions returned by the jury.

In the case of William Conner against Herman Newburg, town of Burns farmer, for wages alleged to be due him to the extent of $25, it was stipulated that a tender of ten dollars had been made by Newburg to settle the case.

TRACES PART OF GERMANS IN THE GROWTH OF U. S.

among the last to lay them down. The roll of revolutionary soldiers bristles with the names of Pennsylvania German soldiers, many of whom rose to great distinction. Bancroft, in his history of the revolution, says them: 'The Germans of Pennsylvania were on the side of freedom.'

"When the soldiers of Washington were starving, the men that gave their own personal bond for $100,000—a very large sum in those days—to buy provisions for the suffering army were nine Germans. And when Mifflin's motion that money be collected to purchase arms was negatively debated, another German-American patriot, Ludwig, arose and in broken English thus cut short the flow of rhetoric: 'Mr. President, I am only a poor gingerbread baker, but write me down for two hundred pounds.'

DeKalb and Von Steuben

"Hallowed to every true American is the ground where that noble German, Baron de Kauz, shed his blood, fighting that we might be free. And never can a grateful people forget the services of Baron von Steuben—who had learned the art of war under the great Frederick, and became the drill-master and inspector-general of the United States army—'the right arm of Washington', as he has been called, and whose memory our grateful nation has honored by a magnificent statue at the National capitol.

"When, in 1812, and again in 1846, the piping times of peace were broken by rude blasts of war, numerous Germans fought valiantly for the country of their adoption. Against Mexico such able officers as J. F. Ballier, A. Moore, O. Zirkel and A. Kautz enlisted in our armies.

"Then came the struggle for the abolition of slavery, and, naturally, the race which, before all others, in 1688, had protested against the crime of holding fellow-men in bondage, did more than its share in fighting for the cause of freedom. It was to preserve our nation's banner inviolate that thousands of men of German blood gave up their lives.

Triumphs of Peace

"It was, however, in peaceful pursuits that German settlers sought their greatest triumphs. When they took up arms it was from necessity of defence only, not for the love of slaughter—and so their fields blossomed as the rose, and their farms became 'garden spots' in the land.

"In every department of human industry the results of their knowledge and of their patient, assiduous toil are apparent.

Great in Science

"Leidy in science. Gross in surgery, Pepper in medicine, Cramp and Herreshof in shipbuilding have reached the highest rank. As a merchant no American has ever surpassed John Wanamaker.

"In our educational system German influence has been paramount from the Kindergarten to the university, for even the name university is used by us in the German, not the English sense."

He was added to the firm when need of competent repair supervision became apparent and increase in business made it imperative that Mr. Berling have a coworker in the business. Berling and Schurz will hande the Imperial, Dort and Marion cars, the agency for the Marion having but recently been acquired.

TWO ARE GIVEN YEAR IN WAUPUN

Two sentences of one year each in the state's prison at Waupun were meted out here this morning to Harry Swift in circuit court, and to Frank Schrader in county court.

Swift pleaded guilty this morning when arraigned on the charge of larceny in the first degree. He relieved Jaseph Balinski of $70 last Wednesday, while the pair were in the buffet of Frank Quinn, 122 North Third street.

Judge Higbee sentenced him to a year at Waupun, with the first day of January to be spent in solitary confinement.

Frank Schrader, 719 Caledonia street, pleaded guilty to being a common drunkard, and admitted conviction on the charge of selling or giving liquor to Jack Miller, a posted man. His plea of guilty in court this morning on a second offense charge, made him liable to a prison sentence.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—An opposition party to criticise the British government's methods of conducting the war, is now being created in parliament with the tacit consent of the government itself.

The British parliamentary system is never able to work satisfactorily while there is no strong party in opposition. Before the present coalition government was formed, the conservative opposition failed to play a critical part in parliament because it feared the effect of being charged with lack of patriotism. Since the organization of the coalition cabinet, there has been no formal opposition of any kind in the British national legislature. Many of the mistakes the British have committed during the war are attributed to the breakdown of criticism in parliament.

Sir Edward Carson, who recently resigned from the cabinet because of the Balkan blunders, is now organizing a national party, whose work shall be that of formal opposition in normal times. Associated with the brilliant Irish conservative is Sir Henry Dalziel, a strong radical member of the house of commons. The national party, therefore, is not to be a partisan organization but will exist solely as a patriotic party, to spur the government to greater activity.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, who is the government's spokesman in the house of lords, recently declared the ministry would welcome criticism. He suggested the occasional critics, such as Lord Loreburn, Lord Morley, Lord Milner and Lord Courtney be considered as a group of elder statesmen, after the Japanese model. But the objection to the kind of criticism of the war which now and then breaks out in the house of lords, is that it is not concerted. It is individual rather than representative and loses much force because of that fact.

If Sir Edward Carson can complete the organization of a national party along formal lines, it is certain that an improvement in the British direction of the war will result. It is also certain that parliament will recover the spirit of democratic government which has been thrust aside because of supposed military requirements.

The meetings will be held in the Dane county circuit court room. There are twenty-five circuit judges in the state.

WHITLOCK IS NOT PERSONA NON GRATA SAYS DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—State department officials insisted today they had not changed plans to have American Minister Brand Whitlock return to Belgium. They scouted unofficial Dutch press reports that Germany was objecting to Whitlock's return.

No official intimation that Whitlock's return to Brussels would displease Germany has so far been received. In fact, it was declared, all official information was to the contrary. Formal assurances recently were received that Germany deplored gossip that Whitlock was persona non grata because of his interest in the case of Miss Edith Cavell.

General Von Bissing, German governor general of Belgium, is known, however, to desire the removal of American and Spanish legations from Brussels to Havre, France, where the Belgian government is located. But officials here doubt if he would object to Whitlock's return to Brussels even if the legation itself was transferred to Havre.

When Whitlock left for a visit at Toledo, he had made all arrangements with Secretary Lansing for his return to Brussels. He is due to sail December 28.

Christian Endeavor

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of." "Golden Fruit from the Prayer Life" is the topic for our study for Sunday evening, Dec. 5.

The Scripture reference is found in Heb. 4:14-16; 11:6.

A prayer—Our Father, we thank Thee for Thine encouragement to us to pray, and for the fellowship with Thyself which we find in prayer. In our helplessness our hearts are glad because, through prayer, Thou hast given us access to Thee. May we not be neglectful of this high privilege, in Jesus' name we pray.

The continuance of the daily round of working and resting which we call life is dependent upon breathing. The spiritual life is just as dependent upon prayer. Without prayer the soul will become powerless. Says Andrew Murray: "I feel that so long as we look on prayer chiefly as a means of maintaining our own Christian life, we shall not know fully what it is meant to be. But when we learn to regard it as the highest part of the work entrusted to us, the root and strength of all other work, we shall see that there is nothing we so need to study and practice as the art of praying aright."

Lord what a change within us one short hour
Spent in Thy presence will prevail to make.
What heavy burdens from our bosoms take;
What parched grounds refreshed as with a shower.
We kneel, and all around us seems to lower,
We rise and all the distant and the near
Stands forth in sunny outline, brave and clear.
We kneel, how weak; we rise, how full of power.
Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong?
Or others—that we are not always strong.
That we are ever overborne with care,
That we should ever weak or heartless be,
Anxious or troubled when with us is prayer
And joy and strength and courage are with Thee.

For each to answer for himself:

Do I pray unthinkingly just in phrases that mean little to me, or do I talk with God as a child with a father?

Have I any real prayer life or do I pray only when conscious of some great need?

Am I still so busy with small matters that I cannot find time for the great work of intercession?

FOREMAN AWARDED COMPENSATION FOR LABORER'S BLOW

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 4.—Edmund Ryan, a foreman for A. J. Hewitt on a Milwaukee sewer construction job, was awarded compensation under the workmen's compensation law today for injuries caused by a laborer who fractured Ryan's skull with a shovel. Frank Nowak, who committed the assault, is now serving an eighteen months' sentence in the state reformatory. The case came before the Wisconsin industrial commission over a controversy as to whether an injury resulting from assault by a fellow workman was a compensable accident. The commission answers in the affirmative, but the supreme court probably will have the final word.

CHRISTMAS SEAL MEETING GOES OVER

The meeting of the board of trade public health committee, which was scheduled for last night at the La Crosse club, when the organization of the Christmas seal campaign was to have been effected, has been postponed until 8 o'clock tonight, because of the absence from the city of F. H. Scofield, chairman of the committee. Mr. Scofield has been in Eau Claire in attendance at the funeral of Miss Ruth Cotten, former member of the La Crosse high school faculty, who died Wednesday noon.

PROGRESS DEPENDS ON EDUCATION SAY FOREIGN SURVEYS

Germany Named as Example of Effect of Institution of Vocational Studies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—International industrial competition and the disclosure that industrial progress is dependent upon education, have caused the institution for school surveys abroad, according to a bulletin of the United States Bureau of Education on "Foreign Educational Surveys."

The bulletin calls attention to the fact that the American survey movement and the efforts to reorganize American schools in industrial and vocational ways were coincident with a realization by the people of the United States of the wonderful progress made by Germany in vocational education and that nation's consequent advance in international industry and commerce.

Would Teach Economy

"The purpose of an educational survey," declares the bulletin, "is to bring about a more economic use of money and equipment, and a better adaption of educational agencies to educational needs."

The scope of the foreign survey is generally wider and looks less to local conditions than the American survey, so the bulletin says. The foreign survey differs also from the American in that it is always made under government auspices. The findings, therefore, carry with them the weight of government authority. "In the schools these findings are conclusive, and by the general public they are received with deference."

The bulletin describes surveys in eleven different foreign countries. Of English surveys it is declared: "England has been especially fortunate in securing the services of her ablest public men on her educational commissions, and in generally having as chairman the ablest and most eminent man of the nation."

English Have Many Surveys

Fifteen district English surveys are recorded in the bulletin. The reports from these investigations say among other things: "Schools should be built for all the children;" "We think the classics good, but other things indispensable;" "prudent liberality is needed as well as practical wisdom in providing for educational needs."

The report on a survey made as far back as 1884, on technical education, expresses its astonishment at the industrial progress of France, Germany and Switzerland, and contains the significant remark: "While we are of the opinion that England still maintains her lead in the world of industry, the commissioners note with concern the growth of technical education abroad." The commissioners conclude that "if England is to continue to be the industrial leader her managers, foremen, and workmen should combine theoretical instruction with their acknowledged practical skill."

WARD SENTENCED FOR AUTO THEFT

Harry J. Ward, who was arrested at Bangor for stealing an automobile belonging to Conrad Heintz of Winona on Nov. 9, the day after he was acquitted in circuit court here of a similar charge, was yesterday sentenced to the reformatory at St. Cloud by District Judge G. W. Granger at Winona. Ward pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny in the first degree when arraigned in court yesterday morning.

DE ORO SETS RECORD

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Alfred De Oro, three cushion billiard champion, brake a world's record, and practically clinched his match here with August Kieckhofer of Chicago, last night when he ran fifty points in thirty-five innings. The old record is thirty-six innings. He also set another record by getting 100 points on two night's play in ninety-seven innings. De Oro now leads Kieckhofer 100 to 63, with one more night to play.

Full of humanity and humor. It breathes the spirit of universal good will as does no other novel of recent years. —Philadelphia Press

Its appeal is a wide one and directed to a wholesome, human, and good-to-preserve simplicity. —Life

MILLERS LEADING ASSOCIATION TEAM

Team Has Won Four of the Fourteen Title Races of Chivington Circuit

Minneapolis has won four of the fourteen championships of the American association, according to the figures given out today by President T. M. Chivington. Columbus has won the flag twice, in 1906 and 1907 while Milwaukee, St. Paul and Indianapolis have each grabbed the gonfalon twice. Minneapolis took the pennant this year by the slight margin of nine points over St. Paul, finishing with a percentage of .597.

Mayer of Kansas City was leading slugger. Out of 61 times at bat he registed 22 hits. Compton of Kansas City, and Riggert of St. Paul, tied in home runs, each with nine. Altizer of Minneapolis got eight.

Minneapolis led in club batting with a per centage of .282. Kansas City was second with .270.

SPETTLE CHOSEN TO LEAD RED AND BLACK NEXT YEAR

Fullback on Horne's Claimants to the State Title Is Elected as Captain

Frank Spettle, fullback on the La Crosse high school team for 1915, was this morning elected captain of the team, at a meeting held after the photograph of the team had been taken at the Pryor studio.

"Spet" has been on the team for two years, playing halfback in 1914 quite regularly. This year he was shifted to full and made good. He hits the line hard and is a wonder at picking holes. He has much driving power and when once through the line is able to get away from the secondary defense. On defense, he is a deadly tackler and he plugs up the holes in the line like a demon. Although quite heavy, he is fast and his steadiness has always been a great aid to the team.

LANGFORD BEATEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Harry Wills of New Orleans, Negro heavyweight, just jabbed away at Sam Langford's face constantly in their ten round bout last night before the Harlem Sporting club and won the decision. Wills is long and Langford, though determined, is briefly built and he couldn't reach the southerner.

JUDGES NAMED TO DECIDE WINNERS OF THE SPECIALS

Otto Schlabach and Billy Fries Will Canvass Votes for Gas Range and Baby Bed

THE STORY OF A BAD TRICK

Fake Telephone Message Ordered Name of Donald Wagner Withdrawn from Election

ONLY SIXTEEN DAYS REMAIN

With Big Field and Even Race the Next Two Weeks Will Decide Winners of $1,550

Get the NEW subscribers in if you wish to win the gas range or the baby bed. These prizes represent the ONLY special inducement, either in extra prizes or votes, that will be offered in this shower of gold election. THIS IS POSITIVE AND FINAL. You need not make the votes public, but GET THE SUBSCRIPTIONS IN so they will count both for the special prizes and the Shower of Gold purses.

City New subscriptions must be delivered to the circulation manager not later than 8 o'clock tonight, and country New subscribers must be mailed today, in order that they may count for the special prizes. Be sure and advise the Election Manager whether you wish the votes polled now or prefer that he give you the certificates so you may vote it whenever you please.

William Fries, city comptroller, and Otto Schlabach, county attorney, will act as judges.

The votes will be canvassed and the winners announced next Tuesday, December 9. This arrangement is made in order to permit the arrival of the subscriptions mailed in country postoffices today. Monday is the first working day upon which this mail can be handled, and will be devoted to canvassing and checking up the results.

What is a "New" Subscriber

Since some of the contenders in the Shower of Gold election are making errors in this particular, we offer this explanation:

For the purpose of this election, as announced at the outset, a NEW subscriber is one who was not a subscribed at the beginning of the election, and such new subscriber REMAINS a NEW subscriber throughout the election. In other words, if you get a NEW subscriber, and later get that SAME new subscriber to EXTEND his subscription, the extension counts as a NEW subscription.

Provided, however, that the mere transfer of a subscription from one member of a family living in the same or in adjoining residences is NOT a new subscriber. The ADDRESS fixes the rule. If the father stops his paper and the wife, daughter or son takes it instead, the subscription is entered as an OLD subscriber. On the other hand, if the paper is going to one member of a family and another member living at the same address takes the paper without the other member stopping it, so that two papers go to the same address, the latter subscriber is counted as a NEW subscriber, provided both subscriptions REMAIN PERMANENT.

Workers should avoid sending in these switched subscriptions in one family at a single address as NEW subscribers, for in every instance the facts are immediately known, and the worker sending in this old subscription marked NEW is debited to the amount of the difference in votes between an OLD and a NEW subscriber.

A Petty Trick

Perhaps workers will be interested in the story of a little trick just perpetrated upon one of the candidates. Donald Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wagner, 2139 Market street, is entered in the Shower of Gold election and had made a good beginning. Wednesday a woman called Mr. Rambo on the telephone, said she was Mrs. Wagner, and asked that Donald's name be withdrawn. The Election Manager regretfully complied, and Donald's name did not appear in the TRIBUNE'S Friday edition.

Shortly after the paper was circulated Friday Mrs. Wagner called up and inquired why her boy's name was withdrawn. It developed that it was not she who had requested that the name be dropped, and the Election Manager had the pleasure of returning Donald's name, with his full vote, to the column of candidates.

Be always on the watch for petty trickery of this kind. Mrs. Wagner has a pretty good idea of who played this particular trick, and why. It didn't do the person any good, it couldn't have under any conditions, and the wonder is that anyone could be stupid enough or mean enough to try it. But tricks are played, so be keen and watchful.

A "Garrison Finish"

That is all excepting—BE ON THE JOB. This is a close race with a big field so far. No one who has made a good start can afford to let up even for an hour, for others are working. Take the time to go and see people, go to the town or community you lived in last. Go to the place your wife grew up in. Drive in the country. Go to all meetings where people get together, and ask every person you can see to take a subscription. You've but sixteen days left. Make them count. It is work, but never have you worked with a chance to earn so much spot cash in so short a time.

HATS OF OLD ARE USED BY FRENCH AS SHAVING MUGS

(United Press Correspondent.)

PARIS, Nov. 2.—(By mail.)—The battle of Champagne was France's first real opportunity to test the effectiveness of the new steel helmets of the first line troops. The results were eminently satisfactory.

"One of my comrades," said a wounded private, "was struck on the head by a splinter from a big shell. He was knocked down and we were sure he had been killed. We found that he was only stunned. The splinter had merely dented the steel cap. Since we have had the helmets there have been fifty per cent fewer wounds in the head. We are now using our regular hats for shaving mugs and wash basins.

CHURCH NEWS

Brotherhood Has New Program

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, a men's organization in the Episcopal church, announces a new program after adhering to an old one for more than thirty years. This new program is religious education and social service in addition to the strictly spiritual aim that the brotherhood has heretofore held. Offices of the society hase been removed from Boston to Philadelphia, in part in order to get into a city where there is a strong brotherhood feeling and backing. Philadelphia has long been the strongest brotherhood city in the country.

The aims of the brotherhood have been to induce men to pray daily for the spread of Christ's cause, and to require or pledge each member so doing to make an earnest effort each week to bring some other man to public religious worship on Sundays. A membership, scattered through Episcopal parishes of the whole country, was built up to about 12,000, a considerable portion of them ministers, about twelve or fifteen years ago, since which time the membership has remained about stationary. The brotherhood has co-operated to some extent with men's organizations in other religious bodies, representing the Episcopal church in them.

Prepare far Jewish Congress

In sixty cities Jewish conferences have now been formed, looking to active preparations for the forthcoming Jewish congress. This congress will try to see how American Jews may help commissioners who finally adjust the war in Europe to adjust also the great Jewish problem of all time. The American Jewish committee opposed for some time the calling of this congress, but has yielded in so far as that it shall be called only after it is known the European war has come to an end. The congress idea is growing rapidly, and in Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, Detroit, Pittsburg and other cities Jews are active in preparation.

Create Six New Cardinals

Only one of the six new cardinals of the Catholic church, to be created at a secret consistory to be held in Rome next Monday, and proclaimed at a public one on the Thursday following, is not a native of Italy, and an Italian subject. He is Mgr. Andrea Fruhwirth, nuncio in Bavaria and an Austrian. Of the five Italians all save one come from the northern part of Italy. This latter fact is held to be favorable, since there is a curious prejudice against southern Italian births. Of the five Italians two are considerably past 75 years of age, and Mgr. Fruhwirth, the Austrian is 70.

The prelates to be honored are Mgrs. Giulio, nuncio at Lisbon; Alfonso Mistrangelo, archbishop of Florence; Giovanni Cagliero, delegate to Central America; Raffaele Scapinelli, nuncio at Vienna; Giorgio Gusmini, archbishop of Bologna; and Andrea Fruhwirth, nuncio at Munish. The last named will represent the great Dominican order, for some years without a member in the Sacred College. Mgr. Tonti is a Scolopian, and Mgr. Cagliero is a Silesian. Only two of them will become at once working members of the Curia, now greatly in need of new prelates for the administrative staff of the church.

The consistory soon to be held will give opportunity for the naming of occupants for important sees. In this country Bishop Mundelein of Brooklyn will be translated to the important archdiocese of Chicago, in succession to the late Mgr. Quigley. In Rome itself the important see of Albany, vacant through the death of Cardinal Agliardi; Ostia and Santa Rufina, vacant through the death of the elder Cardinal Vannutelli, and the important posts of grand penitentiary and grand chancellor of the Catholic church will be filled. With the new cardinals the Sacred College will stand 29 Italians to 32 foreigners. It is said another consistory will be held next March.

READY-TO-WEAR TRADE IS BRISK

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—John V. Farwell company's weekly review today said: Blankets, gloves, underwear, hosiery, wool dress goods, ready-to-wear and other seasonable lines showed unusual activity in addition to the sale clean-ups. The strong demand for saleable, quick moving merchandise indicates good business conditions throughout the entire retail field.

There is a demand for tinsel lace edges, and as imported lines are scarce, American manufacturers are reaping the benefit. St. Gall prices on embroideries have advanced 10 to 12 per cent. England has refused to allow any shipments of cotton piece goods to go into Switzerland, and as St. Gall has depended largely on English manufacturers for their plain cloths for embroideries there is as a consequence scarcity of finished merchandise.

There is an increased demand for white bed spreads in the better grades with bolstered covers to match for holiday trade.

NUNS AND CHILDREN HIDE IN TRENCHES

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By mail.)—All the nuns and girl pupils in a convent school in a Belgian town near the firing line find daily refuge in the British trenches when the town is under bombardment. Special communication trenches have been dug and the moment shells get to flying too thick the sisters herd their little charges out among the Tommies in the trenches.

POSSE SEEKS HOLDUPS

MALVERN, Ark., Dec. 4.—Posses with bloodhounds from Little Rock and Arkadelphia today are scouring the thickets in this vicinity for bandits who last night attempted to hold up Iron Mountain passenger train No. 3, six miles south of here. Late reports said two of the bandits were killed and a deputy wounded in a battle between a posse and the would-be robbers. There was no confirmation, however.

A breach of promise suit is usually based on the theory that the fickle one has the money.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—There was a runaway market in the wheat pit today. After opening ¼c and ¼c lower than yesterday's close, there was a sudden rush to buy. The result was a gain of 5⅜c and 3¼ for the day, closing prices being up that much to $1.16⅝ and $1.16⅛. Brokers ascribed heavy export orders on hand and expected, entrance of the speculative element into the market, and the unusually bullish news as the causes.

Corn and oats were up with wheat, though not so sharply.

Provisions opened lower but advanced on good buying.

CONGRESS TO HAVE MANY PROBLEMS REGARDING TRADE

American Manufacturers May Be Helped to Give Them Footing with Foreign Markets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — According to present plans the attempts to have cloture will be renewed in the senate immediately upon the opening of congress, says a writer in The Nation's Business, the official magazine of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The question at issue will be whether, in a small legislative body, there is more public advantage in extended debate or in speedy action in accordance with the decision of a majority reached in a party caucus.

Military defense of the country, both by sea and by land, will be foremost, but legislation affecting industry and trade will very probably be well forward in the program.

There have already been conferences regarding the form any necessary additional legislation should take for the purpose of keeping foreign competitors, acting under the urgency which will bear upon them after the close of the European war, from practicing in American markets against American manufacturers such unfair methods as American competitors may not use against one another.

Legalized Combination for Export

Not only legislation giving American manufacturers a fair field in their home markets is very probable, but also an express statutory declaration that they have freedom to combine among themselves in order that they may be on an equal footing with their foreign competitors in markets abroad.

It seems possible that the bill for government ownership of vessels which did not succeed in the last congress will be reintroduced, with some modification in form.

The federal reserve system made it possible for national banks of large capital to organize foreign branches, and in fact the National City bank of New York now has six branches in Latin America. Banks in the middle west, however, have been urging that the law should be so amended as to permit several institutions to cooperate in opening joint branches abroad. It seems very likely that the federal reserve board itself will in January recommend to congress new legislation of this purport. At the same time, there may be other alterations in the law regarding foreign banks, such as abrogation of requirement that the main banks set aside a certain amount of capital for each branch, thus giving a prejudicial impression that the resources of each branch are much smaller than they are in fact.

Increased and organized facilities for obtaining credit for agricultural purposes, it will be recalled, have been repeatedly urged by the president and will undoubtedly be proposed in a bill upon which members of both houses have been collaborating.

Sources of Increased Revenue

With the debates on appropriation bills there will have to go debates upon the sources from which new revenues are to be obtained. The emergency taxes imposed in October of last year will be renewed, although with some changes and perhaps with some additions.

New taxes will have to be found not only because of the increased scale of expenditure which is contemplated, but for the reason that customs revenue in the last fiscal year were less than the year before by $83,000,000, and since July of this year they have even been less by $11,000,000 than in the corresponding months of disorganized ocean commerce which immediately followed the outbreak of the war in Europe. In view of these considerations it is not at all unlikely that congress will continue the duty on sugar which according to the present law will end on May 1, and congress may decide it is advisable to use the income tax in the way that was forecasted when the law was enacted—that is, "to give elasticity and productiveness to our revenue system" by the simple expedient of changing the rates. In any event, so long as war continues, the import tax on sugar is to an extent illusory in the revenues it produces, since upon heavy exportations to European countries the duties paid upon importation of raw sugar are refunded. Consequently, the real reliance upon an increase may be the income tax.

Railroad Questions

The Cummins act will undoubtedly have early attention in order that it may be so amended it will not extend beyond its original purposes and cause its present incidental uncertainties. Railway mail pay will probably continue to arouse controversy. The postoffice department will reintroduce the bill which it urged in the last congress and which was severely criticised by the railroads.

The subjects mentioned will serve to indicate the great likelyhood that in the approaching session congress will be extremely busy with many measures of direct interest to business men.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CIRCLET OF OLD NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR BRIDES NOW

Ring Nowadays to Be Up in Style Must Be of Platinum and Diamond-studded

BY MARGARET MASON

(Written For the United Press.)

Adieu, farewell, you plain gold band
That once adorned each fair bride's hand;
It seems that you are to be canned,
If vulgarly we phrase it,
The modern bride now takes the stand
That she must have a ring more grand,
On bridegroom's purse 'twill make demand
But he will have to raise it.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The girl next door is going to be married next week. Her prospective supporter is busy looking for a job in the meantime. The wedding bells may ring a little flat to the bridegroom's ears, but there'll be nothing flat about the wedding ring. Its platinum, set with eleven diamonds.

An unchased gold band may be chaste, but it isn't chased after by the 1915 model brides. After all, this golden link in Hymen's fetters might just as well be as ornate as it is binding.

It was a step toward emancipation when the brides of seven or eight years ago cast off the massive and cumbersome bull's-eye band of their grandmothers and spanned their dainty little left third finger with a narrow yellow circlet.

But nothing will do but a diamond banded circlet, one of platinum or, if it must be gold, one heavily hand carved and decorated.

A progressive western jewelry firm has on hand two charming wedding rings: One dubbed the Venus, the other, the Orange Blossom. They come in green gold, in platinum or diamond studded. Fittingly symbolic, the Venus is decorated with a design of myrtle, the vine sacred to the goddess of Love and Beauty. The orange blossom design needs no explanation of its symbolism.

That well advertised young heiress, Eugenia Kelly, when she became the second bride of A. Davis the other day, unwittingly became also the arbiter of the latest fashion in wedding rings. When the bridegroom forgot such a mere detail, she was married with a quaint copper ring of her late father's.

Ringing the changes on the wedding ring is almost bound to cause a bargain rush on the divorce court. All of the brides of yesteryear will be so anxious to change "little-old-last-year's" wedding for one of the lovely new ones.

Another dire possibility is that the ringing of bridal bells may be hushed throughout the land if the bridegrooms go on a strike and refuse to accede to the ringing of the bridal bells in the new, elaborate manner in which they wish to be accustomed.

MORE BIG MERGERS PLANNED IN EAST

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Plans for two mergers, each involving $50,00,000, are under discussion in New York today:

They provide for the consolidation of the United Dry Goods companies and the Associated Merchants' company, to be known as the Association Dry Goods company, and for the combination of a group of Cuban sugar properties to take advantage of the embargo on European sugar.

The dry goods combine, plans for which are only tentative as yet, still are to be presented to the executive committees of the two companies. Cornelius N. Bliss is said to be slated for the presidency.

J. and W. Seligman, bankers of New York, are heavily interested in the Cuban merger, and Manual Rionda, Cuban sugar producer, also is interested. The interests already have obtained options on Cuban lands, valued at $35,000,000.

MAY PRESENT APPEAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — President Wilson may make his first direct appeal to business men on revenue features of his national defense program when he addresses the chamber of commerce at Columbus,

HE GOT THE BEER BOTTLE AND WEEK IN THE HOSPITAL

"He-he vanted the beer bottle so den I gave it to him, is the reason Henry Nolte, 66, gave Judge John Brindley in county court this afternoon for striking Christ Johnson over the head at the Nora house in the evening of Nov. 13. The assault was committed with a bottle of beer.

Nolte was arraigned in court this afternoon, and on the testimony of Arthur Fenning, proprietor of the Nora house, and others, was given a fine of $20 and costs, with the alternative of 30 days. He chose the latter of necessity.

Johnson was confined to one of the local hospitals for a week after the assault, delaying the case against Nolte until today.

BIG FARMS NOT SO PROFITABLE AS THE SMALLER ONES

Best Farms Are Those That Have Just Enough Land, Buildings and Good Stock

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 4.—(Special),—"Farm investments That Bring Returns," is the title of a bulletin just issued by the Wisconsin Bankers' association, which is being distributed by local bankers in all sections of the state. It was written by D. H. Otis of the college of agriculture, who is the manager of the Wisconsin Farm Management Contest, which is known throughout the middle-west for the excellent results that have been attained.

"The farmers of the state,' says Mr. Otis, "who are really getting the most, both in pleasure and money out of their farms, are those who have carefully invested in just enough land, just enough equipment and sufficient bred-for-production livestock.

"Money that is put into land, which for any reason is not profitably producing crops, or that is invested in buildings, more than is necessary for convenience and comfort, is dead capital and brings little return."

MAY USE CONCRETE ON ROAD

RACINE, Wis., Dec. 4.—Four and one-half miles of Sheridan road, which runs through Caledonia and which that township proposed to macadamize, is to be paved instead with concrete, if the Racine Commercial club can bring about such a change.

The latest attachments on some automobiles are put on by sheriffs.

CHICAGOANS TO FIGHT CHARGES

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Fifty-four labor union officials and big building contractors, against whom a total of 2,484 indictments were returned yesterday charging conspiracy, extortion and malicious mischief, today prepared to fight to a finish the charges against them. The total bail the defendants could be asked to put up, it was learned today at the state's attorney's office, would total about $16,000,000. Each defendant was indicted forty-six times.

Attorneys for the defendants denounced the suggestion of such a large bail as preposterous.
